

NRM 299: Resource Management Issues of High Altitudes Field Course

Faculty, and (b) a minimum grade (A, B+, B, or C)

-6926

Peter Fix

Assistant Professor of Outdoor Recreation

ffpjf@uaf.edu

474

474-6794

474-2107

Assistant Professor of Policy and Law

Assistant Professor of Policy and Law

ffpjf@uaf.edu

ffpjf@uaf.edu

474-2107

Norm Harris

Assistant Professor of Range Mgmt.

ffpjf@uaf.edu

ffpjf@uaf.edu

474-7690

474-7020

Stephen Sparrow

Professor of Agronomy

Allison Pet

Travis

NRM 290

Student Information

Keep in mind that this is in field quarters. Pack your gear accordingly. Spare will be right. Space will be tight. 33 K accommodations will be in rooms or cabins expeditor will be with the group for the after meals. Keep in mind for your own personal gear. Washers and Keep in mind that this is in field quarters. Pack your gear accordingly. Spare will be right. Space will be tight. 33 K floor in 8' x 10' rooms in commercial lodges. Faculty, a graduate student expeditor, and a volunteer full 10-day trip. Participation from everyone in loading and unloading accommodations and vehicles clean is required. You are responsible for your own gear.

Weather

(Fairbanks) where the weather is dry and possibly appropriate gear

We will be traveling from a continental climate zone sunny to a maritime climate zone (Kenai Peninsula)

Student Information

